Linesman / Referee Course

May 23rd / 24th

Officiating ice hockey is a challenging and rewarding way to be involved in the sport. There is no place closer to the action, or more in touch with the excitement and pressure of the game.

Allan Wishewan and Steve Clyde-Smith will be presenting this course both as a refresher for current on-ice officials and as an introduction for those looking to get involved in officiating hockey. On completion of the course, new officials will be given opportunities to officiate local games and will also receive on-going coaching to help them develop into competent officials.

The course will cover all the important aspects of job, from the role of the linesman and referee through to calling penalties and managing the game effectively.

Note: Attendance at a training course is mandatory for all officials intending to officiate any grade of ice hockey. Please register for course by emailing Darren Sault (darren.sault@gmail.com)
